

A LITTLE SCHOOL

KEEPING FAMILIES TOGETHER

Rooted in relationships

The Albuquerque Sign Language Academy is a school where students learn in ways that better connect them to their family and to their community. We are dedicated to improving lives, today, tomorrow, and far beyond.

Albuquerque
Sign Language Academy

Learn more about our K-12 free public charter school located in Albuquerque at ASLAcademy.com

A LITTLE SCHOOL

KEEPING FAMILIES TOGETHER

At the Albuquerque Sign Language Academy we build bridges—language bridges that connect students, families, and communities through ASL. We are a free, public K-12 school in Albuquerque dedicated to growing possibilities and teaching with heart.

Therese Garcia with her three sons and ASLA students

“It’s not just about one child, it’s the whole family we were trying to keep together. This school has helped build a family connection that wouldn’t have been there otherwise.”

Therese Garcia, kindergarten teacher and mother of Jared, Forrest, and Noah, students at the Albuquerque Sign Language Academy.

Albuquerque
Sign Language Academy

Learn more about our K-12 free public charter school located in Albuquerque at ASLAcademy.com